Under the patronage and attendance of CEO Mr. Mohammed Al-Farhoud, DCEOs, Managers and Team Leaders, PIC organized its annual ceremony to celebrate the World Teachers Day, which falls on October 5th every year. During the ceremony, which was held as part of PIC's social responsibility towards the society, Al-Farhoud honored a number of teachers from various schools in Kuwait in appreciation for their active role in moving the educational process in Kuwait forward.

Communication and Services Department acting Manager Mr. Dawood Al-Amiri said on this occasion that PIC makes sure to celebrate teachers every year in appreciation for their important role in building civilizations, describing teachers as the 'true founder of the generation of tomorrow'.

Al- Amiri further indicated that teachers play a great role in society, highlighting their role in educating the younger generations and preparing them to build the civilization of their nations. He expressed gratitude to teachers for their hard work and dedication "that sets a role model for all future generations."

Furthermore, Al- Amiri noted that education is "the gate from which nations enter towards new horizons of progression and advancements in all fields." He added that Kuwait is a global leader in exerting all efforts to continuously improve education and prepare new generations capable of keeping up with the latest technologies to help push Kuwait's development forward.

Al- Amiri addressed teachers by saying: "Congratulations for your efforts and active role in educating our generations, may you continue your message of spreading knowledge, and we wish you further progress and success."
